

WE ARE HIRING

OECUS is a former collective of international artists based in Berlin which co-works together as a label, booking agency and hosts underground events.

Our objective is to create a unique inclusive experience supported by emerging artists following this movement & representing them, organising showcases and promoting their music.

DESCRIPTION

As our new senior agent you will be part of the booking and artist management team. You'll be working together with our founders and collaborators, building meaningful connections with promoters around the globe and both acquiring and handling [in]ternational shows for the artists of our roster.

REQUIREMENTS

- High interest in electronic music and experience working in the techno underground scene.
- Identification with our project, artists & mission.
- Studies in Communications & Media, International Business, Music Management, PR or a similar field.
- Fluency in English (German or any other languages are a plus) & excellent communication skills.
- Knowledge of the MS Office and G-Suite.
- Awareness and Kindness.

We are looking forward to receive your application with your CV and a letter of motivation including your preferred starting date as PDF via this email:
